1.   Remove the four nuts and bolts securing the upper cabinet to the lower cabinet.
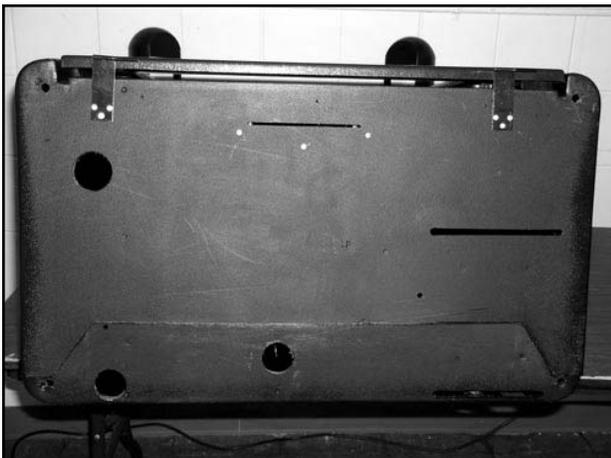

2. On a flat surface, lay the upper cabinet on its back.

3. Place a plastic spacer in the groove on each side. These are used to set the depth of the bezel.

4. Lay the new bezel in place on the upper cabinet.
5. Slide the cabinet hinge onto the bezel hinge, making sure both sets are properly seated.
6. Drill three 3/32" (.094") holes into the bottom of the upper cabinet using the cabinet side hinge leaves as templates.

7. Using the screws provided, attach the cabinet side hinge leaves to the upper cabinet.

8. Remove the plastic spacers.
9. Reassemble the Galaxy II.
